Arrival of the "Brother Jonathan."

Nine Days' Later News. DREADFUL CALAMITY.

GARIBALDI IN NAPLES

The Queen's Speech.

General Intelligence.

The long-looked for steamer Brother Jonathan arrived on Sunday morning, bringing nine days' later news than that received by the bark Almy, on Thursday. The Califor-nia dates are to the 26th ult. The Brother Jonathan was detained in consequence of a large freight, and a severe gale off Columbia River. Below will be found gleanings from European and United States papers:

The investigation into the Broderick will case progresses in San Francisco. The general impression is that the dead Senator's bosom-companions, who claim to have been left the property, have committed perjury.

On Sept. 25th, a slight shock of an earth quake was held in San Francisco.

A passenger on the Overland Mail Stage at Fort Yuma, became frightened at the driving of the horses, and remonstrated with the road-agent. That individual, being in toxicated, immediately shot the passenger dead and drew his body into the bushes by the side of the road. The murderer had not been arrested.

James Whitford was hanged Sept. 21, in the jail-yard of San Francisco, for the murder of Edward Sheridan last February. Sheridan owed Whitford money, but would not pay him, and the latter called him aside one evening and shot him.

The States.

A most dreadful casualty has taken place on Lake Superior. On the morning of the 8th Sept., about 2 o'clock, the steamer Lady E gin, of the Lake Superior line, was run into, off Waukegan, by the schooner Augusta, striking her aft the wheel-house. The steamer sunk in 20 minutes in 300 feet of water. Only 40 persons are known to be saved, including the clerk, steward, and porter. About 350 persons were on board; among whom were the "Black Yagers," and Green Yagers," and "Rifles," and several fire companies, of Milwaukie, who were on a visit to Chicago. Col. Lumsden, of the N. O. Picayune, and family, were also on board, and were lost. At the time of the accident, the schooner was sailing at the rate of eleven miles an hour. The clerk of the steamer, who was saved, says: "The schooner struck the steamer at the midships gangway on the larboard side: the two separated instantly, and the Augusta drifted by in the darkness. At the moment of collison, there were music and dancing in the forward cabin. In an instant after the crash all was still, and in half an hour the steamer sank. I passed through the cabins; the ladies were pale but silent; there was not a cry nor a shriek; no sound but the rush of steam and the surge of the heavy seas. Whether they were not fully aware of the danger, or whether their appalling situation made them speechless, I cannot tell. A boat was lowered at once with the design of going around on the larboard side to examine the leak. There were two oas, but just at the moment, some person possessed himself of one of them and we were left powerless to manage the boat. We succeeded once in reaching the wheel, but were drifted away and thrown upon the beach at Winetka. Only two boats left the steamer; one of them contained 13 persons; the other bore 8; but 4 only reached the shore alieve the others being drowned at the beach. Before I left the steamer, the engine had ceased to work, the fires having been extinguished, and within 30 minutes the Lady Elgin had disappeared. The force and direction of the wind were such that the boats and fragments of the wreck were driven up the lake, and would reach the shore along the vicinity of Winetka. As I stood upon the beach helplessly looking back along the route we had drifted, I could see in the gray of the morning, objects floating upon the water, and sometimes I thought human beings were struggling with the waves."

The elections in Maine and Vermont have resulted in triumphs for the Republicans; Lincoln stock is rising accordingly. The Eastern papers are filled with political intelligence.

The arrest of abolitionists and negroes continue in Texas. The property thus far destroyed in the state by fire is estimated at $3,000,000. Burnings take place every night, and hangings every day.

Great frauds are charged to have been committed on the Pennsylvania Central Railroad. The amount stolen is said to be about $170,000. Dispatches from New Orleans to the 10th of September, speak as follows of the filibusters: The steamer Osceola had arrived at Batavano, from Truxillo. She brings the news that the commander of the British man-of-war had ordered Walker to surrender the town, and that Walker had obeyed, and retired down lower on the coast with 80 men. According to the last accounts his force was reduced to 25 men by the continued attacks of his enemies. Walker himself was severely wounded in the face. Several of his followers were placed on board the man-of-war at Truxillo. He had lost a Colonel when the Osceola was leaving Truxillo.

Mexico.

News from Mexico has been received via New Orleans. The Liberal and Miramon's armies have had a great fight. The former were victorious. Miramon had retired to the capital, and fortified himself. The Church party of the city of Mexico have placed their plate at Miramon's disposal to pay the expenses of the army. At last accounts, the Liberals were advancing upon the capital.

The British Parliament was prorogued on the 28th of August. The Queen's speech was read by the Lord Chancellor. She said that her relations with foreign powers were friendly and satisfactory. She trusted there was no danger of the interruption of the general peace of Europe. She believed that if the Italians were left to settle their own difficulties, the tranquillity of other States would remain undisturbed. She hoped that in any negotiation which would take place on the Savoy question, the neutrality of Switzerland might be maintained. She lamented much the atrocities committed upon the Christians in Syria, and cheerfully unites with the other powers of Europe in assisting the Sultan of Turkey to re-establish order. She regretted the failure of negotiations with China, and said that her forces would support the demand for a full and faithful execution of the treaty. She thanked Parliament for the appropriations for fortifications, and congratulated the country on the efficiency of the rifle volunteers. She concluded by expressing the heartfelt pleasure and satisfaction she had experienced at the warm and enthusiastic reception the Prince of Wales had met with in her North American possessions.

The Emperor Napoleon had made a speech at Lyons, in response to the authorities. He condemned the unjust distrust excited, and declared that nothing could make him deviate from the path of moderation and justice. His sole desire was the general interest of France. He urged them to give themselves up with confidence to works of peace. He was determined, with God's assistance, that France should not degenerate under his dynasty. The pacific nature of this speech caused an advance on the Bourse.

Tuesday Morning, October 9, 1860.

The Italian Question. The advices received from Europe by the arrival of the Brother Jonathan, indicate that the condition of Europe is extremely criti-A train of powder seems to have been laid all over the continent, which needs but the application of the match to blow the peace existing between the Great Powers into atoms and inaugurate a scene of bloodshed and desolation. Austria Prussia are said to have allied on the Italian Question, and are placing their immense armies in a condition ready for marching at a moment's warning. Sardinia is quarreling with Francis Joseph because of his warlike preparations and haughty and almost insulting language in dispatches. Russia is concentrating a large army on the Hungarian frontier-which is said to mean that if Austria engages in another war, the Czar will keep the Hungarians in order while the former is fighting. France, too, has drawn a large army upon the German frontier only a few leagues from the line—and while Marshals McMahon and Niell are crying "Peace!" until they are hoarse, is apparently preparing for a long and bloody struggle.

Garibaldi's successes, in the meantime continue. He is everywhere victorious, and has more volunteers than he knows what to do with. His whole army is in Calabria, and 'ere this he may be master of Naples, in which event it is expected that Austria will step forward and prevent his further progress. Should this expectation be realized, we may look for lively times. The ominous gathering of the armies on the frontiers, and the extreme jealousy on the part of Austria towards any other nation dabbles in Italian affairs, gives ground for this belief. Sardinia deeply wounded the pride of Francis Joseph by the part she played in last summer's war. This wound has not yet healed, and for a long time back This wound Austria has been trying to form an alliance with Prussia and Russia. This she is said to have at last accomplished, and the ball will soon open. Garibaldi will be first attacked; Sardinia will aid him; France will rush to the rescue, while England and Russia will probably very sensibly remain neu tral, and furnish the belligerents with supplies at a good round profit.

Gundpowder Magazine We regret to state that the Grand Jury has concluded its labors without indicting the powder magazine in the fort. Whose fault it is that the subject was not brought under their notice we cannot say; but certain it is that some one should have shown them the impending danger. So long as a large quantity of powder is stored within three hundred yards of the centre of the town, it is not only they who reside in the immediate vicinity; but also those who reside in Yates and Johnson streets that are likely to suffer. An accidental explosion would throw the stone fragments of the magazine over the whole business portion of the town, breaking in roofs, and except by a miraculous escape, carrying with it a serious loss of life. The quantity of powder in the market is gradually becoming greater. A large shipment is daily expected. No other place to store it exists. It must consequently be stored within the fort. The results therefore of an explosion are terrible to contemplate. It is a matter so serious that it will admit of no delay; and so the sooner it is formally brought to the notice of the Government the sooner it is hoped the magazine will be removed. the whole business portion of the GENERAL HARNEY .- General Harney had arrived at Washington at last accounts, and presented an elaborate statement to the War Department in relation to his conduct in the San Juan affair. The General's familywife, son and three daughters-are in Paris, where he wishes to join them as soon as the question between him and the Department question between ann and the Department is adjusted, which will soon take place without a court-martial or anything of that kind. By the Overland Mail at Portland, we learn that the General's wife has died in Paris. She was a lady of rare accomplishments, and a poetess of considerable merit.

THE NEXT STEAMER .- It is expected that the Mail Steamer Cortes will leave San Francisco on the 15th instant for this place: Should she do so, her arrival may be looked for on the 22d or 23d.

H. M. S. GANGES AND TERMAGANT. these British vessels of war arrived at San Francisco Sept. 21st, and were the subject of general attention. The next morning the Ganges fired a salute of 21 guns, which was returned from Fort Alcatraz. The next day the Termagant proceeded to the U. S. Dry Dock at Mare Island, and while being drawn from the water one of the sections slipped, and thus caused the vessel to keel over on her side, carrying everything with her. It is said that $200,000 will not repair the injury done to the dock. At first it was reported that the fine vessel would prove a total wreck; but a dispatch to the Bulletin, dated Sept. 24, says: "The ship Termagant got clear of the docks at 11 o'clock, A. M., nd is now lying in the stream, between Georgia street wharf and Mare Island. She is not supposed to have received much, if any, injury from the accident on the docks."
It will be remembered that the Termagant ran upon a rock in Nanaimo harbor about six weeks since, and injured her bottom. It was to repair these injuries that she wassent to San Francisco. The Ganges was visited in the harbor of San Francisco, on the 23d ult., by a large number of ladies and gen-

COURT OF CHANCERY.

THE CARY-NIAS CASE. INTERESTING DEVELOPMENTS.

The plaintiff, Attorney General Cary, and the defendant, Geo. E. Nins, appeared in Court—the latter in the custody of the Shorter Sheriff.

Mr. Ring moved for the discharge of Geo.

E. Nias from custody, on the ground that he had no intention to leave the colony. Mr. Ring read the complaint of Geo. Hunter Cary and E. Hammond King, which set forth that Nias had disposed of all his real and personal property and his farm at Saanich, and that he is indebted to G. H. Cary in the amount of S1103; that he was settling up his affairs, and a deed of separation had been drawn up between him and his wife; that if not placed under bonds, plaintiff believes he will quit the colony; the complaint also alleges that Nias had offered to sell E. H. King the plant and materials of the Victoria Gazette. To all of which Nias made answer, in substance, as follows: That he had not disposed of no property except such as was of a peri-shable nature; that he had not disposed of the farm at Saanich; that he has turned a mare out for the winter with his brand on; that he is not winding up his affairs, as he applied the day he was arrested to a high official in the colony to take a joint-stock interest in the newspaper, and offered to take a share in it himself; that E. H. King had no grounds for complaint, although there had been negotiations between them at one time; but they were broken off because King would not pay a sufficient sum of money for the concern; that in March last Attorney-Generál Cary proposed to him the formation of a joint-stock company to buy the Victoria Gazette, Cary agreeing to furnish three-fourths of the stock, and Nias was to furnish on pay a sufficient said pattership was to be kept secret, "for," said Cary, "if it is known it will injure me politically;" defendant the did that J. J. Southgate was ever his partner; but his name was inserted because plaintiif did not wish his name to appear in the matter. A deed of transfer was drawn up by E. H. King, in which the names of J. J. Southgate and G. E. Nias appeared as pattners, and J. F. Wilson was constituted trustee for Southgate's share by Cary's defendant denied that J. J. Southgate was a with which to pay for a Ruggles' press, and subsequently let him have $803—making in all, $1303. In Sept. Cary applied for a settlement, but did not succeed in getting one. On the 28th Sept. Cary got out a writ of ne exxet against Nias.

A second complaint was read from the same plaintiff, alleging that Nias had given notes to a large amount to one John Franklin Wilson, signing said notes "Nias & Co."; that Nias, on the 28th September, had attempted to sell the material of the office to Wilson for a sum over $1,000; that Wilson has since said that he regards Cary as a partner in the concern, and will hold him liable for the amount of the netes; that plaintiff believes Nias had turned all his property into cash, with the intention of saddling him with the debt, and that if the said Nias is not held in custody he will lose the amount due him, and have to defend himself against the debts due by said concern.

Nias, at the request of the counsel for plaintiff, here made affidavit to his statement.

Nas, at the request of the contest of the plaintiff, here made affidavit to his statement.

Mr. Crease reviewed the case for the plaintiff, and contended that no contract had been proven; the only evidence of a partnership between the plaintiff and de:endant is the affidavit of the latter. We have proved that defendant attempted to dispose of the property; whether Cary wrs his partner or mortagee, he had attempted to defraud him—fraud was fully shown, and the defendant cannot come into court with clean hands and ask for relief. Under any circumstances, a large sum of money is due the plaintiff. In a writ of ne excel it is only necessary to show that the debt is in danger. This we have fully shown, and we ask that your lordship sustain the writ by not discharging the prisoner until the debt is satisfied.

Mi. McCreight followed on the same side, and stated that plaintiff expressly denied that any such partnership exists. The not discharging the prisoner until the desistatisfied.

Mr. McCreight followed on the same side, and stated that plaintiff expressly denied that any such partnership exists. The alleged partnership is so wholly indefinite as to be absurd. There is no arrangement made as to profits, or even to looking over accounts. Plaintiff is a professional man, and does it seem likely that he would make any such arrangement without making a provision about the profits? besides, he is incapacitated for such an arrangement—in England a barrister would be stricken from the rolls. But it is very natural that plaintiff, being a government man, should advance money to support a government paper, and when he found Nias was not a man of sufficient talent, should wish the loan returned.

Mr. Ring, in reply, asked that this writtinght be discharged with full costs. The learned counsel reviewed the affidavit and complaint, and asked if it was the intention of defendant to defraud plaintiff, would he not have kept such intention secret? Nias went to the Lord Bishop Columbia and asked him if he did not wish to take a share in the paper as a joint-stock concern; he offered it to Bishop Hills probably as a good vehicle of ecclesiastical intelligence. The defendant sells 20 chickens, and then he is arrested on suspicion of being about to flee the colony. Cary first authorizes him to sell the concern, and then seizes his person because he endeavors to do so. This authorizes him to arrested on suspicion to being according to the colony. Cary first authorizes him to sell the concern, and then seizes his person because he endeavors to do so. This authority to sell is not denied.

Mr. McCreight—Yes it is; we deny it now; we can prove positively that it was revoked.

Mr. Ring—Then if the authority was revoked it must have existed. If a mortgage exists, where are the papers? These are none whatever. I want the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. My client was authorised to sell the material of the Gazette; he does not intend to leave. I ask your lordship to dismiss the writ with full costs.

Chief Justice Cameron stated that he would render a decision in the case on Wednesday, at 11 o'clock. In the meantime the defendant might be allowed out on bail in the sum of £268 5s.

Mr. Nias would like to make a statement to the Court.

Mr. Nias would like to make a statement to the Court.

The Chief Justice said he would have to make his statement through his counsel.

Nias—Well, then, have I got to go back to prison—to a felon's cell?

Chief Justice—I shall request the Sheriff to be as lenient to you as possible.

Nias—But I shall have to go back to prison, and that man [pointing to the Attorney General] has committed perjury. I wish to call your lordship's attention to the fact that he has committed perjury in regard to my Saanich farm.

The Chief Justice here left the bench; and the counsel agreed that the office should be closed and the materials sold in thirty days from date.

The Court was then adjourned to Wednesday, at 11 o'clock, a. m., and Mr. Nias was taken in charge by the Sheriff.

DR. ADOLPHUS'

CORDIAL ANTI-RHEUMATIC

Health Restorative

Health Restorative

In the Most Valuable And Unaurassed remedy for Rheumatism and Gout to be found in the world, or known at present. The discovere of the above medicine does claim its infallibility in all cases of Rheumatism and Gout—when used according to direction—and does offer a reward of five thousand dollars to any medicine that does supersede it, and is entirely vegetable. The Doctor is enabled to offer the above reward on account of his having used the above medicine for ten years having the most protracted cases of including and Gout, and withstood all known and rightly celebrated throughout the Sac of the most profession. Doctor Adolphus is known and rightly celebrated throughout the Sac, for his cure in likeumatism, Gout and Cholphus is known and rightly celebrated throughout the Sac, for his cure in likeumatism, Gout and Cholphus is known and rightly celebrated throughout the Sac of his patients, and through the desired are the continued argent efforts of his patients, and through the desired are presented to the patients, and through the desired are the continued argent efforts of his patients, and through the desired are the continued argent efforts of his patients, and through the patients, which they have contracted in the pursuit of their daily calling; only this has been able to persunde the Doctor to give the above medicine to the public, and at such terms that every suffering one should be able to reap its benefits.

As a Health Restorative its value supersedes all the mineral wealth and riches of California; and is creating a revolution in the whole treatment of discases throughout the world. In secondary and the suffer the skill of the most of the patient, this medicine has proved to be superior to any in exist ence, and has cured in so short a time that they appeared like the part of the properior on any in exist ence, and has cured in so short a time tha which their value did reside, if there was actually any at them, and them, and the residual to the residual to it restores healthy action and acted thas righteously deserved the name it bears: IEALTH RESTORATIVE.

The Doctor, who is averse to all patent medicines, wishes it to be understood that the above medicine is no such thing; and that he has, through the introduction of the most define with its treaties and directions for the most define with its treaties and directions for the most define with its treaties and directions above numed diseases.

Thinking it under my dignity to tollow the mode of quacks, by appending certificates of physicians or private persons, which is too well known can be had for certain remunerations, applications of friends, or by the mode of boring a man half to death for even the most worthless trash, I will therefore leave it hose in want of medicine to inquire personally of men who have been cured by my medicines of the above diseases, and who can be found in all econsider such personal conviction far superior to certificates of persons that are far from being known to them in want of medical sid.

But should any one care for written testimonials or certificates registing the curea performed by this medicine, they will call at my office, and I will show them evoluntarily, without applying for them, or by boring individuals to get them.

To satisfy the most scrupulous of men, also as a guarantee to those that have not had the opportunity of knowing the Doctor by reputation or personally, I have adjoined to every bottle of the Anti-Itheumatic Cordial, the certificate, under oath, of one of the most celebrated analytical chemists in the United States that there are no minerals nor posions contained this medicine, and has a very strong action on the lumeystem, which it necessarily must have, to overcome the action of disease of seuch malignant character.
